A story of innovative entrepreneurs and pragmatic experts...

Anthura is the expert in breeding and propagating Orchids and Anthurium. Over the last 80 years, our family company has developed into a worldwide market leader. After years of focusing on innovative and sustainable product development, we have created an unparalleled selection of colourful varieties.

As a breeder, Anthura shows that entrepreneurship is about more than just streamlined delivery of high quality plant material. We do not only innovate by deploying the most modern technologies, but also by entering into win-win partnerships.

...who are focused on connection, thriving chains...

We focus on a promising future for our customers, and also on the optimum performance of the chain. We are constantly curious about the ideal product characteristics and applications for the entire chain; for instance, by evaluating new forms of marketing and developments in online and offline opportunities and possibilities.

...and the success of others.

For all our customers around the world, we are the number one partner that will make them most successful.

Sustainable entrepreneurship is in our DNA

Anthura is a company of innovation-minded entrepreneurs and pragmatic experts. We are an innovative organization that not only seeks continuous quality improvement and versatile variety characteristics, but also focuses on sustainable production processes and products.
